

The following sample pages from Beginning Green Reading Book One are correlated to Lesson 9 of the corresponding manual, which is also given as a sample on the website. Please note that the font in this reading book changes in Lesson 18. To see pages in the other font, view the sample for Beginning Green Reading Book Two.

Lesson 9- Practice Reading (PR)

The Not-So-Fair Fair

Joan and Mike go to the fair. The pair roar when they see a goat with a coat. Gail waitsu for Mike and Joan by the road. Then it rainss. Gail waitss in the rain and moanss. Mike and Joan go to the road and meet Gail. The rain soakss Mike and Joan and Gail. They go home. The fair is not so fair.

1. Is a goat with a coat at the fair?
2. Does Gail wait in the rain and moan?

Lesson 9- PR (continued)

A Nail in His Tail

A goat has a nail in his tail. Oh, how the goat moans in pain. Joan, a maid, hears the goat moan. Joan goes to the goat, takes the nail from his tail and puts soap on his tail. Then they both set sail for the fair.

Pairs

A pair of toads paid a pair of goats to raid a jail and free a pair of innocent maids. The pair of maids paid the pair of goats with a loaf, hugged the toads, and they all set sail for the fair.

More Pairs

A pair of maids met a pair of goats and a pair of foals on the road to the jail. Beside the road, the pair of maids and the pair of goats and the pair of foals saw a pair of toads in a pair of pails. So the pair of maids took the pair of pails with the pair of toads and they all set sail for the fair.